Welcome to ESCIF

The concept of ESCIF was conceived in Nottwil, Switzerland in 2005 on the basis that a trans-European association is needed in order to share experience and to further expertise across Europe for people living with a spinal cord injury.

ESCIF will communicate and distribute knowledge and expertise equally amongst all member countries.

ESCIF aims to become more than the sum of the parts of each member country. In doing so, it will generate ideas, research and awareness that reaches beyond the capability of each individual organisation.

Project

Acute care and primary rehabilitation (Jane Horsewell)

Purpose and aims

- It is the first information-gathering project to be initiated by ESCIF. Its purpose is to gather and collate information on the acute care and primary rehabilitation services offered to people with spinal cord injuries in the member countries
- We are interested in identifying specific differences and in analysing how these impact the perceived quality of care in each country
- The initial investigation took the form of a questionnaire that has been sent to each of the member organisations
- At the congress in Lobbach/Heidelberg a workshop will involve all the delegates in an activity focused upon the exchange of experience and ideas that will lead to a consideration of “best practice” in primary rehabilitation
